Hawthorn Expands Responsibilities for Stan Hosler

St. Louis, MO: Hawthorn Physician Services Corporation announced today that it is expanding responsibilities for Stan Hosler to include headquarters support for marketing communications. Mr. Hosler is based in Marietta, Georgia. He joined the Hawthorn team in 2012 to oversee business development activity in the southeast.

Hawthorn is a healthcare revenue cycle management company specialized to serve hospital-based and office-based physician practices. Hawthorn is currently contracted to process over 1.5 million claims by more than 200 physicians in nine states. Hosler will continue in his business development role while producing new content for the company and for external publications.

Mr. Hosler has over thirty years' experience in sales, marketing and communications. He has held several headquarters sales, sales training and marketing positions at Contel Corporation (GTE) and The Coca-Cola Company, and has served as president of Stylus Communication Resources, a marketing communication firm.
